

FUNDEO SNAIL RACING

The Standard Tote-based packs

There is a choice of packs with 4, 6 or 8 races. All packs are tremendous fundraisers for PTA's, sports clubs, charities etc and are great fun for pubs, clubs, private parties, weddings, corporate events or team building exercises.

You can have a pack with Fundeo's default snail names, or get your snail sponsors to name the snails themselves. You can also have your snail sponsors' names added to the pack. The snail names will appear in the video and Peedy the parrot will call them out. For parties or corporate events why not name the snails after people present then sit back and watch them giggle with excitement as Peedy calls out the names. This is a great way to involve and captivate everyone at your event!

To arrange your event all you need do is decide the date, arrange the race names (pubs and bars often just make up 'fun names', others get business sponsors to name them) get your snails sponsored - and named too if you like (this is extremely popular!), then just add these details when you order online.

Fundraising If you are organising a fundraising event then you can use real money (usual in UK, New Zealand and several states of the USA, Canada and Australia), fun money or else donations to comply with local state law (see guidance and demonstrations on our website).

You can cover your costs before you order by collecting sponsorship money for the snail names and/or the race names. Local businesses generally sponsor race names to promote local sales and individuals generally sponsor snail names for fun and prizes.

You can promote your event with Fundeo's Snail Racing Posters (free on our website) or wear a Snail Racing T shirt! We suggest you offer prizes to the winning snail sponsors and provide a VIP table for the race sponsors perhaps with a complimentary bottle. At the event you can keep it simple and just have the tote betting, or you can charge an admission fee on the door, auction the snails in say the last race and run a 'lucky dip' with sets of dual forecast tickets in one or more races.

The pricing and payouts are entirely up to you. However if you are fundraising, we suggest a fixed 'Race Name' sponsorship fee of £25 to £50 (US$50-100, €25-50) per race and a fixed 'snail sponsorship' fee of £5 (US$10, €5) per snail.

With the tote we suggest a ticket price of £1 (US$2, €1) per ticket. You will use the easy reckoning tabulator forms to divide out a proportion, say 50% of the total takings for each race, amongst the winning ticket holders.

With the auction we suggest you add the total income from the auction of the 8 snails and offer the winning snail owner half of this amount.

For your convenience, we have a sponsorship collection form which can be printed off and handed to colleagues to collect snail sponsors names, snail names (and race names / race sponsors names).

Special Packs

(a) Lucky Dip Packs are modifications of the standard packs. These packs are designed to be run single-handedly, without the need for a 'tote table' team. They use sets of 'dual forecast' tickets for the gaming instead of the normal 'tote' system.

This just means that each ticket shows the numbers of two snails for 1st and 2nd place instead of just one snail. There are just 28 tickets in a set only one of which will be a winner. A standard pack comes with one set of dual forecast tickets and you can order more for larger audiences.

(b) Multi-Event Packs These are ideal for holiday resorts with changing audiences; Pub Chains etc with numerous venues; national charities with bases at different localities; entertainers serving numerous venues; or as a promotion pack for corporations. Just decide how many events you wish to run (minimum of 5) then order the appropriate number of 'event' kits. Details are on our website.
